THE BRITISH COMPUTER SOCIETY

Branch Meeting

16th January 2002 at 6.30pm

Great Registrations

Professional Development and Public Records

Arlene Chalmers & Ron Bell
GRO Scotland

Winners for the second time of the BCS award for best established professional development, staff from GROS explain their successful approach to staff development in IT, and outline current ground-breaking developments which are transforming their business.

The professional development part of this presentation will be of interest to staff developers, personnel officers, and anyone with an interest in ensuring that staff are equipped professionally to exploit investment in an IT infrastructure.

The talk will explain how computers are changing the way such organisations operate, and will be of particular interest to genealogists, archivists, or anyone with an interest in the accessibility of such records.

NOTE This meeting will be preceded by a presentation in memory of the late Jimmy Robertson FBCS.

See our Capital newsletter, available on our web site, for details.
